MEYLE SHOCK ABSORBERS: THE FUTURE OF DRIVING COMFORT

Designed for the world's hardest test: the road

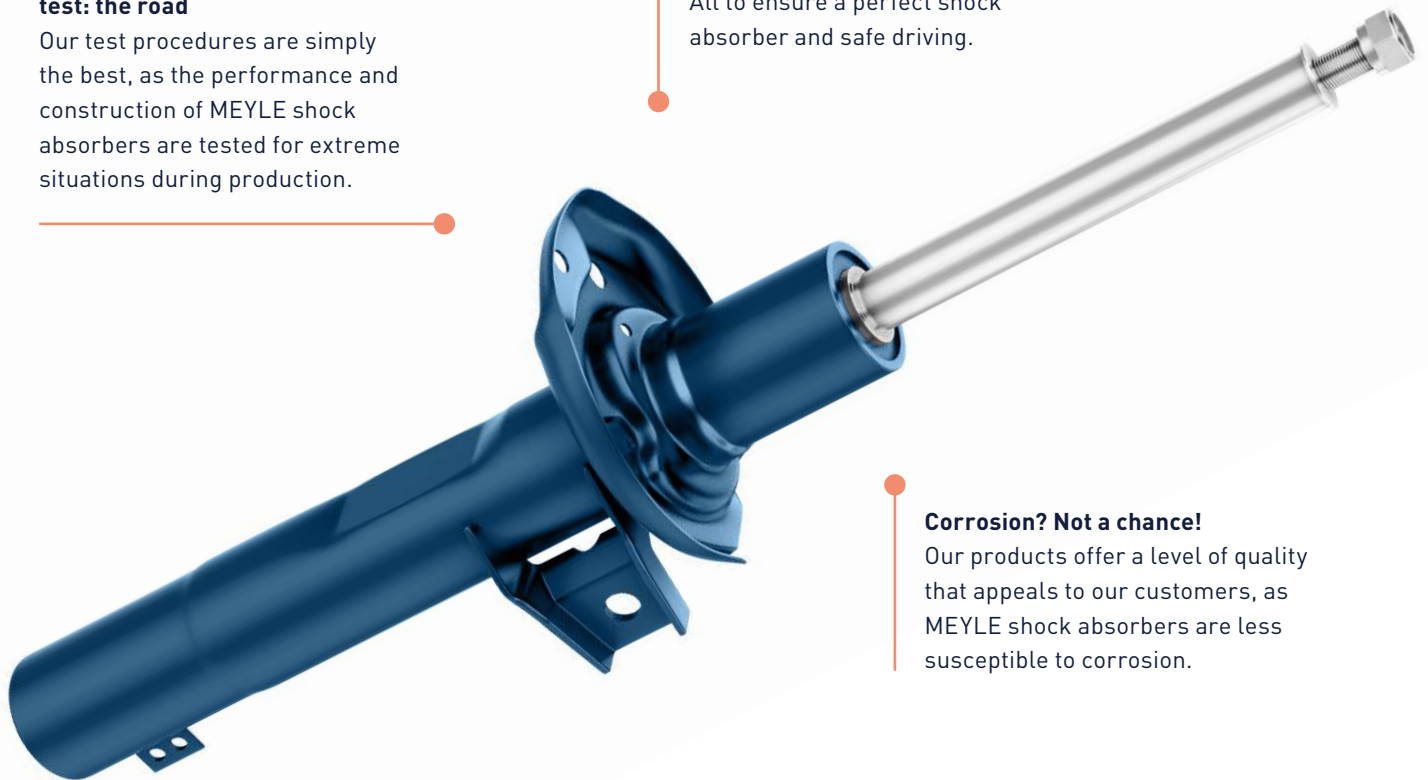

Our test procedures are simply the best, as the performance and construction of MEYLE shock absorbers are tested for extreme situations during production.

Developed in Germany – designed for the vehicle

Our engineers always develop solutions in accordance with the highest standards – our own – and then define them for our production. All to ensure a perfect shock absorber and safe driving.

Corrosion? Not a chance!

Our products offer a level of quality that appeals to our customers, as MEYLE shock absorbers are less susceptible to corrosion.
