

2087708 Service Information

TEXTAR® is going to optimise the material choice for the linked vehicles as part of a product life cycle management action for its material number 2087708.

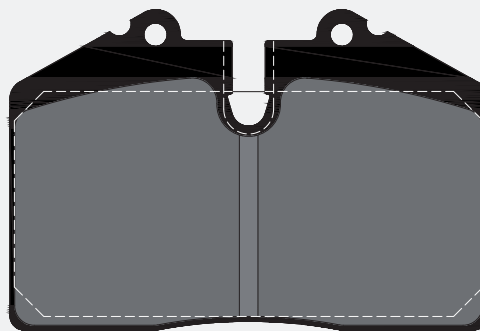

Currently 2087708 is linked to both front and rear axle applications on various vehicles. TEXTAR® is about to split the applications into front and rear and will offer separate solutions for each axle.

This means that 2087708 is going to be replaced by two numbers in the future, where each number is covering one axle.

2087710 will only cover the front axle applications of 2087708, while 2087711 will cover the rear axle applications.
